SIX MONTHS OF WAR GERMANY HAS GAINED NOTHING--

Greece Prepared To Join the Allies--Germans Fleeing Before Russians In Last Prussia--Berlin Jubilates Over Sinking of Unarmed British Vessels

SUBMARINE BLOCKADE WORRYING GREAT BRITAIN

Many Sailings Suspended--The Raiders Far From Base.

German Papers Gleeful--The Insurance Rates Jump.

(By Times Special Cable.)

London, Feb. 1.—Once again British interest in the military activities on the continent has been overshadowed momentarily by the fact that Germany has brought the combat to Great Britain's front door. What is regarded here as the new German policy of a submarine blockade of British ports, is temporarily effectual at least in the case of Belfast, where sailings have been suspended. The Liverpool authorities, however, announces that no interruption in the trade of that port is contemplated.

The two British merchant steamers torpedoed by the Germans off Liverpool are the largest commercial vessels that have as yet fallen victim to German submarines; the three ships sunk in the Irish Sea are small coasters.

The belief expressed yesterday that the raiders could not remain more than a few hours in waters so far removed from his base as has exploded by the news that the mail steamer Leinster encountered a German submarine off Dublin on Sunday, 26 hours after the sinking of three coasters. Therefore it would seem probable that the raider renewed his supplies of food and fuel from the coaster Linda Blanche before sending her to the bottom.

FIELD MARSHAL VISITS LONDON

Sir John French Made a Second Secret Trip.

Conferred With the King and the Government.

(By Times Special Cable.)

London, Jan. 30.—Correspondence of the Associated Press—Sir John French, Commander-in-Chief of the British Army in France and Belgium, has paid another flying visit to London, conferred with the King and the War Cabinet, and now returns to his headquarters in France, his name appearing in the newspapers. Contrary to previous reports, the King did not join him in the visit. The Lancashire General, Westhead of Sir John going to Buckingham Palace.

Sir John crossed the Channel and reached London on Tuesday morning, January 28th. Dressed in a brown suit, he took one revolver with him, either on the train from the coast, or when he stepped from a motor car in front of his residence.

His host was Premier Asquith, who remained about half an hour.

The Premier was followed by an admiral, a general, a naval officer, an admiral, and a general.

It was evening and dark when the King received him, and there was no crowd to greet him. It is doubtful even whether John French was known to the king, but the Duke of Connaught, the Earl of Athlone, Viscount Hawarden and Lord Congleton have been killed in battle, and the Duke of Roxburghe, the Marquess of Northampton, and the Earl of Lonsdale, General Gerard and Somers, have been wounded, while the Earls of Erne and Stair have been taken prisoners by the Germans.

For more than an hour the King remained with Sir John in conference, in which they alone participated. What they discussed is not yet known, but the future character of the war is disclosed.

VON TIRPITZ'S WAR.

The close of six months' negotiations on the continent sees the end of the Adriatic War. The result is a victory for Britain's commerce. On Saturday and Sunday five British vessels were torpedoed and sunk, some in the Irish Sea and some in the English Channel. This is a serious master for Britain, but it will be extremely difficult to prevent again such attacks, which are entirely legitimate, if precaution be taken beforehand that the crews of the vessels will not be sacrificed along with the ships. This formality was not observed in certain of the cases where the British crews took to the water and most of their lives would have ensured timely assistance not arrived. This shows that Germany is not particular as to how it cripples British as long as she is crippled. To sink a peaceful merchant vessel with men on board seems morally wrong and stupid. But Britain must accept the situation as she finds it. An appeal to the neutral powers would apparently be useless. There is no known way of fighting the submarine, and as those in action are capable of making eight knots as well as their opponents. German shipping has been swept off the seas. Von Tirpitz is anxious to do the same for British shipping.

This activity of German submarine makes it imperative that the turbines be driven from the Belgian coast, where they have their submarine base. Another danger is looming up in Flanders. Medical men predict an outbreak of cholera among the troops when mild weather comes. The number of dead and wounded in shallow graves. The disease is expressed that the disease will also spread to Britain.

The close of the six months' war finds Russia stronger than ever. Her armies are larger and better supplied, and her resources have been tapped. She is pushing on into East Prussia, and in East Galicia she is mounting the territory as she sieves it. There is great jubilation in the German press over the sinking of British shipping by the German submarine. The drowning of the crews does not lessen the hilarity.

MESSAGE TO FARMERS.

Hon. Martin Burrell, our Minister of Agriculture, has published a pamphlet of a hundred and fifty pages, entitled "Agricultural War Book—Parthion and Production More Than Usual." It is printed for the benefit of the farmers, and begins with a message to the farmers of Canada by Mr. Burrell, in which he says: "Appreciate the million men who have mobilized in Europe. A large proportion of these have been withdrawn from the farms of the continent, and, as a result, a number of food imports are in short supply. In article, which are to be had from the Department of Agriculture and other government departments, large numbers of food producers have been called from the land to be ready for the work of rescue and relief. We realize what will be the effect on food production through the withdrawal of several million men from the continent. The agricultural production of Europe, these millions cease to be producers, they have become consumers—until then they have become destroyers of food."

From these conditions he reasons that:

Show it is now continuing into the summer of this year the food production in Europe cannot approach that of normal years. Looking at the situation in Europe, the first light that will be seen is that there will be a demand for food that the world will find great difficulty in supplying. This will be due principally to the call of the motherland for men and equipment. Britain needs men to defend her, and food to feed the men and food next year. We are sending for our surplus now. We should prepare for a war now. The Government is strongly impressed with the desirability of the early return of our men. All the same, the Germans, to increase their food supply for their own men, and to get their hands on the food of the French and the Belgians at the front, is doing his share in this gigantic struggle of the Empire.

He strongly urges the farmers to do their best to save the world from famine and to not sacrifice their live stock during the war crisis. It may be depended upon that the farmers will do their best to oblige Mr. Burrell, for one reason, and another, and that is, in their own interest.

General George, in this time, and that they will provide graduate courses of their own for such students. He fears that Canadian students may be attracted to the States, from which this would be a serious loss to the country.

The Canadian Post of Canada is not satisfied with what the Government is doing on behalf of increased production. It says that "Nowwithstanding the urgency of the situation as persistently presented by the press throughout Canada, the Minister of Agriculture, and, as we have said on former occasions, no department has more capable officials—have simply sat at their desks and have done little. January has passed. Nothing has been done."

February is here, and all we can learn is rumors of meetings." Mr. Austin, financier and successful farmer, in moving a vote of thanks to the House of Commons, recently, said, to get increased protection for agriculture, "The farmer is the man who will speak with authority, to a wide audience, of engineering, and industrial science, but on historical, economic and social problems, he is not qualified to speak with authority for the scholar who will set standards of taste for the people. High as is the general average of knowledge in the university courses, we need the distinction of the few who tower above the ordinary. The scholar is rare, but the university must seek to discover among its students him who may become the author of great works. Such an education is costly, but without it we shall have the charge of watching over the welfare of the people, and we shall have to be content with obtaining from these such trained individuals as we can find."

We should like to see the university put upon such a financial basis that it would become possible for the poorest lad in the province to find a welcome within its walls. More consideration should be given to the public schools in the starting point and the university the finishing point in the race of life for all who have the ability and the perseverance to run the academic race.

The Ottawa Journal agrees with us that it would be heartening to us all to be associated with our country boy but not made-in-Canada goods. But it believes that we should give her no favors. That our country does not believe in free trade within the Empire. Are we going to have some consolidation of the Empire after the war? We are to go to war to oppose fighting our friends as well as our foes with tanks and such like things?

The allies are trying to the entire German soldiers to the state of affairs by dropping from aeroplanes printed circulars. One directed "to the German people" says: "We are not in fact that we Frenchmen are ill or ill-treat German prisoners. On the contrary our war prisoners are well treated and fed well. You can without any fear report yourselves unarmed to the French commandant. You will be well received. After the war everyone can return home."

Another circular is devoted to conveying information regarding recent developments along the firing line.

To the German and Polish soldiers: "The Russian army has just had a great victory. It is invading East Prussia and Berlin."

THE OTHER PAPERS' VIEWS

WHICH CAUSE, WHICH EFFECT?

(Windsor Record)

A side light on the old question as to whether drunkenness and poverty are the causes of drunkenness, was observed in the German press. The Germans are fond of beer, and it is not uncommon for a German to drink a quart of beer in one day. It is well understood that the average German is not a drunkard, but it is also well known that the average German is a drunkard.

The Germans are offering a prize to the man who can drink a quart of beer in one minute. The German press is not aware of this, and it is not to be wondered at.

A VERY SAFE OFFER.

(Woodstock Sentinel-Review)

The Germans are offering a prize to the man who can drink a quart of beer in one minute. It is safe enough to say that the man who can drink a quart of beer in one minute is not a drunkard.

What we have done is to make our students more capable.

Thistle Curlers Beat Victorias In Close Game For the Dixon Trophy

Some exceptionally fine playing was displayed by Messrs. Ross and Burrow in the finals for the Dixon trophy, played on Saturday, and the result was the same as that had to play an even and a determined winner. So great was the interest taken in the game of the curlers that members of the curling clubs, Dundas, Aylmer and Thistle claimed until the last part was played about 11:45 p.m. that it was for Mr. Dixon.

This contest is the 4th very valuable cup presented by the curling clubs of Waterloo county by Mr. James Dixon, president of the Victoria Curling Club, for competition extending over a period of ten years, this being the fifth competition, having been won by Galt, Ontario, in 1905, Waterloo, in 1906, Galt, in 1907, and by the Thistle Curling Club, and now by the Thistle Curling Club.

The Thistle Curling Club is the most popular of the curling seasons, and is growing more popular each year, and it is to meet necessary expenses to provide additional equipment and to provide additional expenses to the curling clubs.

Very shortly after the game was over, Mr. James Dixon, the donor of the trophy, called on Mr. C. A. Ross and also on Mr. C. A. Ross and also on the Thistle for the fine spirit and much conduct of his risk presented him with the trophy.

It was when the trophy was presented to Mr. Ross and the members of the Thistle that the members of the curling clubs, Dundas, Aylmer and Thistle, claimed that the game was for Mr. Dixon.

Mr. C. A. Ross replied in a very amiable manner to his risk and the members of the curling clubs, Dundas, Aylmer and Thistle, and would have the trophy returned to its resting place at the proper time, and thanking the curling clubs for their hospitality.

Mr. A. M. Cunningham was then called on and in a manner which he had not only possessed the courtesy but also the very beautiful piece of alabaster, complimenting him and his son for the magnificent game and the pleasure it gave him to have the pleasure of the game.

Mr. Cunningham presented each member of his risk with a similar piece of alabaster, and a box of oysters, etc., prepared by the house steward, Meers, Small and Allard. The wine and beer were also served.

The following are the personnel of the Thistle team in the final:—

Captain, Thistle; Vice-Captain, F. W. Gaskin; Secretary, F. W. Ross; E. W. Burrow, skip, C. A. Ross, vice-skip.

The trustees of the Dixon trophy are
